

EDINBURGH WAY

NEWS FLASH

OCTOBER 2022

LAMBS

The little lambs have been reading 'Let's find Super worm' – each week the children have focused on a different insect from the book and have been taking part in activities relating to that bug. The children have enjoyed exploring different natural materials from nature, as we have been exploring leaves, soil, flowers, and fruit as these play a crucial importance in a bug's life. The lambs have taken part in several different messy activities such as spaghetti worm play and a muddy worm habitat. The children have been exploring the different areas using their senses. Lots of our parents have also shown an interest and sent in photos of them carrying out scavenger hunts at home relating to the book.

DUCKS

The Ducklings have been reading 'Walking through the jungle' from this the children have explored the different animals that live in the jungle and have been learning about their habitats and what they like to eat. The children have been taking a closer look at what the animals look like and have noticed the different patterns that they have. We then went on to create our own animal patterns and noticed the different marks we have created. The children have enjoyed taking part in several different creative activities such as creating their own jungle crowns and making animal huts, which has helped promote their creativity and imagination. The ducklings took part in an amazing group activity where they painted their feet and role-played being jungle animals, created animal footprints and sang rhyme's from the book.

FARMERS

The farmers have been reading a new story called 'The leaf thief' which has introduced the children to Autumn. We sent home a natural objects scavenger hunt sheet for the children to carry out with their parents. From this the children brought in all their findings and used them during activities such as making playdough, making their own leaf kites, and exploring different emotions by creating leaf puppets. The children have been exploring different types of weather and the different outcomes each season presents such as leaves falling from trees and wind blowing. From this book we found the children shown a particular interest in leaves, so we carried on our leaf learning journey by exploring them in a variety of different ways looking at different sizes, colours and patterns of leaves.

In October we will be focusing on behaviour management and sharing different techniques we can use – if you would like any support with behavior at home please speak to a member of staff and we will discuss this further to help.
